KPFK SWITCHBOARD

(818) 985-2711

9 AM to 5 PM, Monday - Friday

The month of September marks a transition for KPFK as we move from one budget cycle to another. We operate on a fiscal year that closes its books at the end of September, and this year we are having anxiety attacks about making our listener-support goals. If you made a pledge during our most recent fund drive and have not yet paid the bill, please do so now. If you've received one of our requests for additional support, "do the right thing" and send in your check today. Thank you for your past and future contributions. It keeps us alive and articulate to bring you the programming that deserves your sponsorship.

The anniversary of our 30th year in broadcasting was marked by a celebration of programs and a small party for some KPFK alumni. We will continue the festivities on the air and with community events through next July with a sense of history and hope that three decades gives us for the future. The alumni gathering brought its share of tears and laughter for a crowd that could not, by itself, see the continuity of KPFK because that continuity incorporates everyone who has touched this place, and in turn been touched by it. Yet the evening brought back home the wonderful recognition that the whole is greater than the sum of the parts.

By the time this Folio arrives at your home, KPFK's staff will have been through a weekend of long-range planning. This session is intended as uninterrupted time away from the station where we can be a bit clairvoyant about where KPFK should be two and three years from now. The first audible results of the planning session will soon be evident, and we hope that you enjoy the changes — major and minor — which will result from a group process defining agreed upon goals.

Well, that's some philosophy and financial news for you this month. I should also indicate that right now we specifically need volunteers with financial/fundraising expertise. Recent cutbacks in Corporation for Public Broadcasting funding has increased the need to raise funds in new and creative ways, both on the air and off. If your expertise lies in this area, please get in touch with me at KPFK — (818) 985-2711.

Thank you and be well.

Two staff positions are now open at KPFK

Administrative Assistant to the General Manager—This is a half-time position, which requires secretarial and writing skills. Broadcast skills helpful.

Folio Editor—This is a quarter-time position, requiring desktop publishing experience. Own computer very helpful (Macintosh preferred).

Send resumes to:

The next KPFK Station Board Meeting will be
Tuesday, September 12, 7-10 PM

Downtown Legalization Project, 1st Methodist Church
1010 South Flower Street, Los Angeles.

The Board is seeking new members, especially those with fundraising and development expertise. Anyone who is interested should contact Board Chairperson Ken Carr at (213) 396-0829.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

MEXICAN AND LATIN AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE: A FIGHT FOR SOVEREIGNTY

September 11-16

Our celebration of Mexican Independence Day (9/16) includes programs illustrating the similarity of the political and social conflicts throughout the region. The Morning Readings for that week (Mon.-Fri. 11:30 AM) commemorate the fall of Chile's Salvador Allende and the cultural work of Victor Jara, along with several pieces presenting the lives of "ordinary" Latin American women and men. Just a Minute (Fri. Sept. 15, 4:00-5:55 PM) examines the history of intervention in the area (in English) and Enfoque Latino (Thur. Sept. 14, 9:55-10:50 PM) looks at the future of bilingual education.

IMMIGRANT CHILDREN AT HOME AND IN SCHOOL

Saturday September 30 9:00AM-3:00PM

Special programming dedicated to immigrant children with forums, in English and Spanish, focusing on their educational problems. We will feature special children's programming for bilingual families (or the monolingual with appreciation of the Spanish language) and music for all. The program features part two of the Radio Bilingue series: Immigrant Children in Public Schools: Learning English. This live satellite broadcast addresses issues faced by the growing population of immigrant children during their journey through the US school systems. Learning English will air nationally in English at 10 AM and in Spanish at 2 PM. Programación especial dedicada al niño inmigrante con foros en Inglés y Español discutiendo sus problemas educacionales. Tendremos también programas infantiles para la familia Bilingue (o para aquellos monolingües que aprecian nuestro idioma español); y música para todos. Los Foros se originarán en San Francisco como parte de una producción especial de Radio Bilingue (Fresno), que se difundirá en todo el país. El foro en Inglés se transmitirá de 10 AM a 11 AM - En español será de 2 PM a 3 PM.

LABOR DAY Monday September 4

Carmen -All good workers should be listening to Solidarity Forever — right? Wrong! We're going high-brow with one of the greatest operas of all time. Mario Casetta, the Old Ethnic, will be your host. (9 AM-Noon)

Rising Waters: The Militant Drama of the 30's-Plays, music and commentary on the New Theatre League and the WPA Federal Theatre Project. This program was produced in 1979 by Bill Shields, and won the San Francisco State University Broadcast Media Award (Pacifica Archive #AZ0425).

Part 1-Amateur Radical Theatre 1930 through 1935-Spawned by the hardship of the Great Depression, and drawing on both international and domestic sources of theatrical experimentation, the New Theatre was a coming-together of passionate social commitment and groundbreaking dramatic innovation.

Part 2-The Shift to Realism, A Broader Reach and the Labor Theatre 1935 through 1942-Waiting For Lefty transformed theatrical styles nationwide. New Theatre actors said no to Hitler's growing might, CIO organizers went to drama schools, and garment workers created the second-longest musical revue in New York stage history, Pins and Needles.

Part 3-The New Theatre and the Professional Stage-From the Theatre Union's Stevedore early in the decade to Marc Blitzstein's 1937 cantata, "The Cradle Will Rock," a broader segment of American society found its way onto the stage in the 30's than ever before. This program will examine all facets of the decade's theatre life, and will take a look at the WPA-sponsored Federal Theatre as well.

Part 4-Waiting for Lefty, by Clifford Odets-This series concludes with this remarkable piece, which stood at the center of all the many creative currents of the New Theatre movement. As Group Theatre director Harold Clurman wrote concerning the legendary opening night of his company's Broadway production of the play: "Lefty...was the birth cry of the 30's...our youth had found its voice."

Rising Waters will be followed by a program of farm workers' songs, Pastures of Plenty (4:15-5:15 PM), and Household Workers Rights in the Bay Area (5:15-5:55 PM), a discussion on the health hazards of cleaning products (both programs are in English and Spanish). Stay tuned for The Times In Review (6-6:30 PM) and the Newsessay of Charles Morgan (6:30-6:45 PM), for a special edition of Labor Scene (6:45-8:00 PM) and, of course, The Johnny Otis Show (8:00-11:00 PM).

TWO NEW PACIFICA-PRODUCED SATELLITE SERIES

Undercurrents is an investigative news program specializing in covert actions and international politics. This program will be broadcast on KPFC beginning on Sunday, September 3, at 5:15 PM, following the Sunday News.

RadioVisions, Pacifica's collection of contemporary radio theatre pieces, begins on Monday, September 4, at 11 PM, with Tales of Earth, Sea and Sky, three tales of the Windigo, mythological spirits of the great Cree Indian nation.

NAVARATRI and ROSH HASHONAH

Saturday September 30

Rosh Hashonah with Rabbi Wil Kramer is the featured program on Midweek on September 27, 3 PM, in which the author and columnist discusses the Jewish New Year with Roy Tuckman.

As Sweet as Honey takes you to a Rosh Hashonah dinner and follows the holiday season as the mood turns more inward on Yom Kippur and back to the celebratory atmosphere of the harvest festival, Sukkot. (Thursday, September 28, 2:30 PM).

Third Class, Scholem Aleichem's short story about the role of Jews in the world, is the Morning Reading for Friday, September 29, 11:30 AM.

Mahalays: Celebration of Durga -Durga Puja means invocation of the Goddess Durga. Hundreds of millions of Hindus all over the Sub-continent of India celebrate High Holidays during the early fall of each year for nine consecutive days known as Navaratri. It is the custom of most parts of India to broadcast at the early morning following the new moon in the month of September/October a traditional oratorio: Mahalaya - the invocation of Goddess Durga. This program will be broadcast on KPFC on September 30, at 5:30 AM. (As a preview to this special program, tune in to Poetic License on Friday, September 29, at 2 PM, as Clare Spark examines the Art and Mythology of India).

Rosh Hashonah Through a Feminist Eye is an interview with Stacey Offner on the meaning of the Jewish holiday, both traditionally and for feminist women today (Saturday, September 30, 8:30 AM).

RISING WATERS: MILITANT DRAMA OF THE 30's-Plays music and commentary on the New Theatre League and the WPA Federal Theatre Project. This program was produced in 1979 by Bill Sherids, and won the San Francisco State University Broadcast Media Award (Pacifica Archive #A20425).
Part 1-Amateur Radical Theatre 1930 through 1935-Spawned by the hardship of the Great Depression, and drawing on both international and domestic sources of theatrical experimentation, the New Theatre was a coming together of passionate social commitment and groundbreaking dramatic innovation.
Part 2-The Shift to Realism, A Broader Reach and the Labor Theatre 1935 through 1942-Waving For Lefty transformed theatrical styles nationwide. New Theatre actors said no to Hitler's growing might. CIO organizers went to drama schools, and garment workers created the second-longest musical revue in New York stage history, Pins and Needles

Part 3-The New Theatre and the Professional Stage-From the Theatre Union's Stevedore early in the decade to Marc Blitzstein's 1937 cantata, "The Cradle Will Rock," a broader segment of American society found its way onto the stage in the 30's than ever before. All post-World War I theatre in this country grew out of a synthesis of strong social themes, international creative advances and home-grown experimentation. This program will examine all facets of the decade's theatre life, and will take a look at the WPA-sponsored Federal Theatre as well.
Part 4-Waiting for Lefty, by Clifford Odets-This series concludes with this remarkable piece, which stood at the center of all the many creative currents of the New Theatre movement. RADIO VISIONS: BABY BOOM-With original songs and narration, this radio musical comments on a nation focused on one generation. In this case, the nation is the United States and the generation is the one created by the pent-up sexual, social and economic energy unleashed at the end of World War II. In a humorous self-mocking way, one baby boomer's story unfolds. We see how he attempts to grow-up and establish some identity and individuality. He searches for "adult" career possibilities. He tries out various new and different lifestyles and living environments. And, most of all, he tries to keep his generation off the cover of Time magazine.

MARIO'S MANY WORLDS OF MUSIC-Today we present "The Death of Ophelia" with the choir of the National Orchestra of Lyon. In La Mort D'Ophélie by Hector Berlioz, we have an exquisitely lovely work, not too well known and perhaps atypical of Berlioz, based on Shakespeare's Hamlet. This production gets a five-star rating from host Mano Casetta. It features Bruce Brewer, tenor, Jean-Philippe Courts, baritone, and Noel Lee, piano. Directed by Bernard Tetu and released as a CD on Harmonia Mundi Records, in France. Other morning musical treats include Sacred and Profane Music from the Moroccan Atlas Mountains on Ocora Records, and the unusual and moving story of Jimmy Rogers on the ASV compact disc, Train Whistle Blues.

INDEPENDENT MUSIC Don't let the names throw you. Max Groove? Frank Mantooth? Emiel Van Egdom? Actually, what we have here is super contemporary jazz from Optimism Records. Great stuff on CD if you can get past the names. While you're still up there, let's do some more soaring with Nana Vasconcelos & The Bushdancers. African European and indigenous Indian influences — it's all in there in Brazilian musical heritage. Mario Casetta hosts.

AMERICAN DIALOGUES Ekene Cervenka writes thought-provoking poetry and music lyrics that can tell a complicated story in only a few words. In the mid-1970's she and fellow musician John Doe established the critically acclaimed Los Angeles band, X, which was the cutting edge of a vital new music scene. Ekene is committed to speaking out on a variety of social issues, but is especially forceful in discussing the shrinking space for artists who don't fit the corporate marketing mold. Ekene Cervenka joins host Robert Foxworth on this edition of American Dialogues

MAHALAYA: CELEBRATION OF DURGA PUJA-Durga Puja means invocation of the Goddess Durga. Hundreds of millions of Hindus all over the Sub-continent of India celebrate High Holidays during the early fall of each year for nine consecutive days known as Navaratri. It is in praise of Goddess Durga, the remover of all sorrows. It is the custom of most parts of India to broadcast at the early morning following the new moon in the month of September/October a traditional oratorio. Mahalaya - the invocation of Goddess Durga. It is a tradition in Bengal for every family to wake up early that morning to listen to the Mahalaya program. That morning, every home in Calcutta is tuned to the Mahalaya broadcast, and the city resonates with the music. Conservatively, at least 100 million people listen to the Mahalaya broadcast on that morning all over the Indian Sub-continent. This early-morning broadcast by KPFK will help recreate in the minds of local Indians, especially Bengalis, the festive mood in India before the start of Durga Puja

ROSH HASHONAH THROUGH A FEMINIST EYE-Stacey Offner, Rabbinical student at the Reformed Jewish Seminary, is interviewed by Ginny Z. Berson on the meaning of the holiday, both traditionally and for feminist women today. Offner also talks about the contradictions of being a Jewish feminist and connections Jewish women can make with their culture, history and religion.
9:30
IMMIGRANT CHILDREN AT HOME AND SCHOOL-Special programming dedicated to immigrant children with forums, in English and Spanish, focusing on their educational problems. We will feature special children's programming for bilingual families (or the monolingual with appreciation of the Spanish language) and music for all. As a part of this program, we'll present Immigrant Children in the Public Schools: Learning English. This national broadcast is part of a series addressing issues faced by the growing population of immigrant children during their journey through the US school systems. Learning English is the first critical step to survival and adjustment in the US. Bilingual education services were established to help children in their native language as they adjust to English. However, experts estimate that nearly two thirds of the approximately 5 million limited-English children are not receiving the needed language assistance. This problem is expected to worsen in the immediate future as the population of immigrant students soars. Learning English was produced by Radio Bilingue, and will be broadcast in English at 10 AM and in Spanish at 2 PM. Programacion especial dedicada al nino inmigrante con foros en Ingles y Espanol discutiendo sus problemas educacionales. Tendremos tambien programas infantiles para la familia Bilingue (o para aquellos monolingues que aprecian nuestro idioma espanol); y musica para todos. Los Foros se originaran en San Francisco como parte de una produccion especial de Radio Bilingue (Fresno), que se difundira en todo el pais. El foro en Ingles se transmitira de 10 AM a 11 AM - En espanol sera de 2 PM a 3 PM.
